Damage Report Regarding the Earthquake in the Hokuriku Region (Update #1)

We would like to report on the impact of the earthquake that took place on Sunday, March 25, 2007 at 9:42 a.m.

As of 3:00 p.m. March 26, the damage conditions at our subsidiaries are as follows. Apart from the two plants discussed below, production at our other manufacturing subsidiaries will not be affected in any major way.

【Anamizu Electronics Industries, Ltd.】 : Manufacturing of EMI Suppression Filters and Coil Products

No one was injured. There was no structural damage, and electricity, water, and other infrastructure have already restored.

Some damage to equipment occurred, and at this time operations have been halted while we work on starting up operations. From tomorrow, March 27, we will begin to gradually work towards getting back online, and we expect to be able to resume normal operations some time this week. However, due to aftershocks, there is a possibility that it will take longer. Products are being shipped more or less as usual, and there will be no disruption in deliveries to our customers since we have adequate inventory to meet orders.

【Wakura Murata Manufacturing Co., Ltd.】 : Manufacturing of Module Products

No one was injured. There was no structural damage or damage to electricity, water, and other infrastructure. There was no major damage to equipment, but some equipment will need to be repaired and time will be required for adjustments, etc. We expect to resume operations within 2 to 3 days. However, due to aftershocks, there is a possibility that it will take longer.
